Italians Streaming Across Albania Towards Santi Quaranta: Fall Of Argyrokastron Imminent

The Italians are streaming across Albania towards the port of Santi Quaranta and are also reported to be leaving Argyrokastron, according to a message from London yesterday.

Although the occupation of Santi Quaranta and Argyrokastron has not yet been officially claimed, a report from Athens says that Greek troops are already on the outskirts and that the fall of these cities is imminent.

Greek successes are also reported on the snow-covered mountains to the west of Pogradetz, while another report states that they have occupied Mount Kanja and captured many prisoners and large quantities of war material.

GREEKS ADVANCE ON ALL FRONTS
Still following retreating Italians the Greeks have advanced well beyond Pogradetz and serious revolt against the Italians is reported from Elbasan. The Italians are streaming across Albania and the fall of Santi Quaranta and Argyrokastron are imminent.

An Important British Air Victory Announced

ATHENS, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—An important British air victory is announced at British headquarters.

In a fierce battle over the enemy lines yesterday, British fighters without loss to themselves shot down a large number of enemy aircraft.

Greek sources state 10 enemy planes are destroyed but official confirmation is awaited.

Enemy troops retreating hurriedly in the Tepelini Kefir sector were successfully attacked by R.A.F. bombers and fighters.

British Fighter Aircraft Now Have Cannon

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—British fighter aircraft are now equipped with a cannon in addition to machine-guns and a number of German machines were recently brought down by this new equipment.

The cannon has a longer range and more damaging power than machine-guns.

It is reported a long-barrelled cannon of 37 millimetres will be fitted to Boeing fighters which will soon be delivered to Britain.

The new machines have a speed of 500 m.p.h. and have been successfully tested over Lake Ontario, Canada.

Today's War Summary

THE CAPTURE BY THE GREEKS OF THE KEY VILLAGE OF PREMETI and the commanding positions they occupy threatening Santi Quaranta are regarded by the British Press as opening up prospects of still further successes in southern Albania. The Italians are still in retreat and the fall of Santi Quaranta and Argyrokastron are reported to be imminent.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S ADMINISTRATION IS RECOGNISED as the only National Government of China by the Soviet Union who has informed Japan of this following the treaty signed last Saturday between Wang Ching-wei and the Tokyo Government.

ANOTHER BLOW TO GERMAN ASPIRATIONS IN THE BALKANS is the signing of a trade agreement between Great Britain and Turkey which is heralded in the London Press as an effective challenge to the Nazi plans to exploit economic domination in the Balkans for political ends.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S DETERMINATION TO COMBAT night bombing was emphasised by Capt. H. E. Balfour, of the Air Ministry. "Meanwhile it is reported that British fighter aircraft are now additionally fitted with a cannon and several German planes have been brought down by this equipment."

AS ONLY NATIONAL GOVT. OF CHINA

THE SOVIET UNION HAS INFORMED JAPAN THAT RUSSIA WILL CONTINUE TO RECOGNISE GENERAL CHIANG KAI-SHEK'S ADMINISTRATION AS THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT OF CHINA AND NOT THE WANG REGIME, STATES A LONDON MESSAGE.

On Saturday last, Japan signed a treaty with Wang Ching-wei, clause three of which permitted the Japanese to retain troops for an indefinite period in North China and Inner Mongolia, the latter place of which is within the Russian sphere of Outer Mongolia.

A day after the treaty was signed, the Soviet Ambassador in Tokyo, M. Smetanin, called on the Japanese Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs and demanded an explanation of this clause and he was given the assurance that it was not directed against the Soviet.

Nevertheless, the Soviet Ambassador found it necessary to inform the Japanese Government that its policy towards China would remain unchanged. This means that Russian aid to General Chiang Kai-shek against Japan will not be withdrawn or modified.

Three great Powers with interests in the Asiatic are therefore to help China in her battle for freedom.

The United States, which recently announced a loan of $100,000,000 to China and which is now discussing further aid.

The Soviet Union, which is offering to send planes, tanks and other war material, and Great Britain, which is doing its utmost to facilitate the transport of supplies to China along the Burma Road.

Japan's hopes of a new order for Asia have, thus, been rejected.

ATTLEE ON IMPOSSIBILITY OF MAKING PEACE WITH NAZI GERMANY

The impossibility of making peace with Nazi Germany was mentioned yesterday by MAJOR C. R. ATTLEE, LORD PRIVY SEAL, in the House of Commons when he said, "You cannot make peace with a people who do not accept the beginnings of the decency of modern civilisation. We have seen mangled bodies and wrecked homes but there is something worse than killing bodies—it is killing the soul."

In the meantime, reports of peace moves continue to reach London.

A message from Budapest suggests the possibility of German mediation in the Italo-Greek war.

Surprised peace feelers are also being credited to Germany for a negotiated peace, the message pointed out that German propaganda had not been able to conceal the weakness of her Axis partner, the unbroken spirit of the British Empire and the rising momentum of the United States assistance to Britain.

It is not Britain, but Germany, that must be feeling herself in a very dangerous position.

New Trade Agreement: Turkey Will Find Market In Britain For Her Agricultural Products

The most significant item of news yesterday was the announcement of the signing of a Trade Agreement between Britain and Turkey, by which Britain will get a large share of the Turkish market, states a message from London.

Purchases by the British Government will be paid for promptly in sterling and Turkey will find a market in Britain for her agricultural products.

Turkey is shortly to receive a number of locomotives and railway equipment from Britain and the delivery of these will again prove the British mastery of the seas as well as Britain's ability to maintain her export trade.

Germany had, until now, held the trade of the Balkans, but has failed to pay for the goods she bought. Turkey was one of the countries to oppose this method.

The signing of this agreement needs no emphasis. By its signature, Turkey reaffirms her determination to stick by her alliance with Britain.

Meanwhile, the British Trade Mission to South America is reported to be meeting with great success.

FORCED ON RUMANIA. In contrast to this trade agreement with Turkey, which was freely negotiated, is the announcement of a pact which Germany has forced on Rumania. By this pact Rumania will have to buy German railway machinery at Germany's price and Rumania's own goods will be sold to Germany at prices which Germany wants to pay.

A report from Bucharest states that Germany plans to use the armies of the small European countries in her campaign next spring.

There is no limit to what Britain could face and accept and that Britain is now more certain of victory than ever before.

There is no limit to what Britain could face and accept and that Britain is now more certain of victory than ever before.

RETAIL PRICES FOR RICE STRONGLY CRITICISED

Excellent Opportunity For Unscrupulous Dealers To Continue Ramp

STRONG CRITICISMS OF THE RETAIL PRICES FOR RICE FIXED BY THE CONTROLLER OF FOOD, and published in a Government Gazette Extraordinary yesterday, were voiced by all those approached on this question by a Hongkong Daily Press reporter yesterday afternoon.

The consensus of opinion appeared to be that the prices fixed were most unsatisfactory in three respects, namely,

They are much too high; They still offer an excellent opportunity to unscrupulous dealers to continue the ramp; and

No penalty has been fixed by Government.

As to the first point, one of the informants stated that the "broken" quality used to be sold at between $8 and $8.50 per picul, against the Government's allowance of $11.50 (if bought by 5-catty lots) or $12 if bought by the catty.

As this quality is principally consumed by the poorer class—

Government Determined To Fight Night Bombing

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—The Government's determination to combat night bombing was emphasised by Captain Harold Balfour, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for Air.

Speaking to the Eagle Squadron of the R. A. F. (a squadron composed of United States volunteers), Capt. Balfour said the R. A. F.'s efforts have driven the mass day raiders out of the skies and forced the enemy to adopt the policy of indiscriminate night bombing, particularly in industrial areas.

"Just as indiscriminate bombing raids failed," said Captain Balfour, "so will the effect from this present form of attack be countered."

"While in the air we work on measures to oppose night raids, in the factory we will mend, patch, replace and rebuild."

Capt. Balfour's peroration was a request to the Eagle Squadron to tell United States citizens that there is no limit to what Britain could face and accept and that Britain is now more certain of victory than ever before.

Britain's Financial Position "Never Stronger"

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Britain's financial position was never stronger," declared Sir Frederick Phillips, Third Secretary to the British Treasury, when he arrived here by Clipper last night, en route to Washington, to confer with Mr. H. Morgenthau on the general financial position of Britain.

Pending the conference, he declined to discuss what he hoped to accomplish or what aid Britain might expect and said that the British purchases are at present being paid for before delivery but "we can't go on buying from reserves forever no matter what they are."

Asked whether he had come to discuss credits, he replied, "That is a stage further on" and he professed lack of knowledge of the reported proposal to lend Britain $2,500,000,000. He added that to his knowledge, such a proposal has not been discussed by British Government circles connected with finance.

AWARD OF CONTRACTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—The award of contracts for the construction of at least a part of the 60 vessels stated in the House of Commons on Dec. 3 to have been ordered in the United States by the Ministry of Shipping is expected within the next few days, according to the Journal of Commerce.

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—The R.A.F. bomber targets in Turin last night and also carried out a fairly heavy attack on Düsseldorf. It is officially announced.

INTERESTING TALK ON CONDITIONS IN KUKONG: Y'S MEN'S CLUB TIFFIN MEETING

Model Village To Be Built To Relieve Housing Problem

AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF CONDITIONS IN KUKONG AND THAT REGION IN NORTH KWANGTUNG was given yesterday at the weekly tiffin meeting of the Hongkong Y's Men's Club at the St. Francis Hotel by Mr. E. H. Lockwood, General Secretary of the Canton Y.M.C.A.

Kukong, a town formerly known as Shukwan and Shichow, may be reached from Hongkong by three different routes. Mr. Lockwood said. The first of these is by plane to Kweilin and from there by train to Shikwan. The second way is by plane to Nam Hung and from there by motor-road to Shikwan. The third route is the East River route through Sha-U-Chung.

People who have travelled the third route, the speaker said, have many interesting stories to tell. It has been estimated that if all the coolies using the road at the same time were made to stand in line, each man touching the shoulder of the one before him, the whole line would stretch from Tamshui to Sha-U-Chung.

Rates of pay enjoyed by the coolies were about the highest he knew of in China and they were making the most of the good time. Perhaps for the first time too in the history of China, chair coolies were being victimized by robbers and had worldly possessions coveted by the brigands.

EXCITING TALES

Travellers on the road, when they met, had always exciting tales to tell one another and gatherings in rest houses en route could be compared with those of travellers in "inns" in mediaeval times. Exciting things seemed to happen to everyone, though thousands must have made the journey without an incident of any kind.

He had a story to tell himself, Mr. Lockwood said, and it concerned a trip by motor-road from Lungchui to Shukwan. After having negotiated a long series of hazardous bends in the road, he had changed cars and the news reached him shortly afterwards that not long after he had got out of the car that had done the more dangerous part of the route, it had gone off the road into a paddy field, with all passengers. If the steering gear had failed only a little earlier, the car may have gone over the side of the road and plunged into a deep ravine.

REGION OF BEAUTY

Kukong was a region of beauty. It had been little bigger than a small village, until the war had given it importance. Its suburbs were growing, very rapidly and there were always more people in town than all the housing accommodation could hold. Many people had grown used to living in boats and rented these in the river.

It was said that in Kweilin it was easier to get a job than to rent a house and easier to find a wife than a servant, and this was even more true of Kukong. The Government only recently rented a house there known as the Fu Lai Hsie to serve as a hostel for visitors and the Y.M.C.A. were also renting two houses for people passing through.

SPIRIT OF COMRADESHIP

He had never lived in a place, Mr. Lockwood said, where the people were so friendly. Most of the residents were new people to the town and many of them had come up from Canton. A strong spirit of comradeship prevailed and people who had only been casual acquaintances in Canton spoke to him when he met with them as to a long lost friend.

Because of the danger of air raids, shops were not permitted to open until 4.30 p.m. and the town came alive then. Then streets were as full after dark as the Bund in Canton in the old days. A large percentage of the people were young, many of them in the Government and only recently finished with their schooling. They frequented the Y.M.C.A. in large numbers and never had the Y.M.C.A. faced greater opportunities, he thought, than in Kukong.

BOMBING RAIDS

There had been only two bombing raids last summer, but both of these did serious damage. However, half-an-hour's notice was given of bombing raids and it was possible, walking at a good pace, to get outside the limits of the city and into the comparative safety of a system of trenches in the neighbouring hilly country. In one of the raids, three of the four churches in Kukong were hit.

A rural community had been established at Lung Kwal, a few miles from the city and the Y.M.C.A. were very much interested in this work. Two nurses were giving their service there and five young men were engaged in helping in the formation of loan co-operatives for the farmers. The banks were providing loans at eight per cent. per annum for a period of six months. A total sum of $500,000 in National Currency had been loaned out by the Banks so far.

SOCIAL SERVICES

Other work done by the Y.M.C.A. was being carried on among the city population. While Welfare Work for the soldiers and a Students' Service Centre at Ping-shikwas was also being run, the latter in co-operation with the Rt. Rev. R. O. Hall.

Governor Lei Hon-man recently suggested to him that a model village be started by the Y.M.C.A. to entice people to come up from Hongkong, who would be very willing to travel to Kukong if they were assured of a place to live. Many would be willing to pay rent or even buy a house in such a village, it has been suggested. It was proposed to build such a village for 100 families.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB

He was taking back with him to Kukong $500 worth of books, Mr. Lockwood said. He hoped also to start there soon a Y's Men's Club. He felt very optimistic about the future of Kwangtung and he had seen evidence that the spirit of the Cantonese people had not been crushed by the Japanese invasion.

Mr. Lockwood spoke also of the work being conducted by Mme. Lei Hon-man, the wife of the Governor, who has opened eight homes in the north of the province for 10,000 homeless children, who were being cared for and were receiving schooling.

POLICE REPORTS

Mr. Hamling, of the Hongkong Tramways Company, reports that money amounting to $40 was stolen from his office between midnight and 5 a.m. on Dec. 3.

Miss D.L. Sago, of No. 146 Argyle Street, has reported the theft of a ladies' overcoat on Wednesday at the Happy Valley ground.

The theft of three cases of vases, valued at $350.50, between Dec. 2 and 4 from No. 173 Wellington Street has been reported to the Police by Ho Tak-kuang.

Leicester is to appoint air raid welfare officers, who will see that any distress caused by enemy action is immediately relieved.

EXHIBITION MATCHES

To stimulate interest among members of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. for the coming season, exhibition badminton matches were given by P. H. Wong, Colony champion, and C. Au, co-doubles champion, at the "Y" court at Bridges Street last night.

In the first singles match Lau beat Young by 15 points to 11. The second singles game, the "tit-bit" of the evening, saw Wong beat his team mate C. Au by a similar score.

The programme was rounded off with a doubles exhibition in which Au, partnered by H. Ko, beat F. Ko and T. W. Wong by 21-13.

In all the matches, quite a high standard was seen and a very successful season is promised the Chinese "Y" if last night's exhibition is any criterion.

NAZI OIL SUPPLIES CHIEF OBJECTIVE OF THE R.A.F.

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—If Germany runs short of oil she must stop fighting. It is with this belief uppermost in mind that the R.A.F. have shaped their operations. And the R.A.F. know a trick worth two of bombing oil wells. What this trick is was explained, among other things, by the Minister of Economic Warfare, Mr. Hugh Dalton, at the Press conference yesterday.

The British blockade, said Mr. Dalton, is working well and the enemy are growing uncomfortably short of certain commodities. Oil, rubber and copper, looted by Germany from occupied territories, are now exhausted, and Germany is back where she was six months ago.

The safety margin of oil in Germany has not yet been touched, but she is using more oil than she is producing as a result of R.A.F. attacks on supplies, storage and the transport system, and the disappointing supplies received from Russia.

HEAD OF LIST

He recommended targets in Germany to the Air Ministry and he always kept oil near the head of the list.

In Italy, Bari had always been the R.A.F.'s number one target; it is economically more important than Milan or Turin as the most important oil stocks in Italy are kept there.

Speaking of the difficulty of transporting the Rumanian oil surplus to Germany, Mr. Dalton said that as crude oil was not very inflammable it was impossible to suggest bombing the Rumanian wells. Rather wait until Germany had spent labour and time refining and transporting it, and then bomb it.

ITALIAN SHORTAGE

Italy would feel the pinch even before Germany, said Mr. Dalton, because she had no synthetic oil plant and there was little doubt that her supplies were growing short, and she had to get replenishment from Germany.

Mr. Dalton would like to see an increasing mobilisation of reserves of United States production set aside for Britain and her allies, and added "there have been exchanges of views with the United States on the matter."

GERMAN TOWNS BOMBED

EXPLOSIONS, FIRES OBSERVED

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Mannheim and Ludwigshafen which were linked across the Rhine by a most important bridge which was used by rail and foot traffic, were attacked by British bombers on Tuesday night, despite unfavourable weather conditions.

In both towns, fires and explosions were observed.

The R.A.F. also attacked a blast furnace plant at Essen, while

PRINTERS HOAX WANG

CHUNGKING, Dec. 5 (Central).—The gambling house advertisement in yesterday's issue of the Central China Daily News, Wang Ching-wei's mouthpiece in Shanghai, containing the slogan "Down with the Traitor, Wang Chin-wei" is believed to be a piece of subtle sabotage by the printers, says a Shanghai dispatch.

The editorial did not discover the joke until they were informed by outsiders in the afternoon. When an investigation was made, they found all the printers had disappeared.

No British Recognition For Nanking "Government"

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—"Mr. Morgan can rest assured that His Majesty's Government will maintain close contact with the United States Government in all matters of common interest."

This was Mr. R.A. Butler's reply to Mr. Morgan's query cabled yesterday inviting a joint Anglo-American declaration in opposition to the so-called new order which Japan is trying to introduce in China and the whole Pacific.

Replying to Mr. Gower's question inviting a statement on Britain's policy towards the Nanking "Government," Mr. Butler said: "His Majesty's Government has repeatedly made known its attitude which is to recognise the National Government of Chungking as the Government of China."

AFRICAN OPERATIONS

CAIRO, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—It was announced here yesterday that in British air operations in Italian East Africa, Kassala was heavily raided.

Bombs were dropped on enemy fortified positions and a motor transport and park were straddled.

British aircraft also machine-gunned a transport and enemy personnel.

SENSATIONAL CHANGES IN WESTERN EUROPE ARE FORECAST

NEW BERLIN-PARIS AXIS?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Private reports from Europe, forecasting sensational changes in Western Europe and the Mediterranean in the near future, are being eagerly discussed by some of the better informed diplomatic sources in Washington.

The reports declare that the internal situation in Italy is rapidly deteriorating and there is much dissatisfaction among the people but it is not yet crystallised because the opposition to the regime is still without a leader and, in addition, there has been a number of extensions of disaffected elements.

A friction is also reported between Signor Mussolini and Marshal Graziani and it is stated that he has twice refused to obey orders to attack on the Egyptian front until reinforcements of men and material have reached him and these apparently cannot be sent.

As a result of these developments, together with the Italian reverses in Albania and the refusal of the Italian Fleet to meet the British Navy, it is reported that Berlin now considers Italy's usefulness as a partner almost irreparably damaged.

BERLIN-PARIS AXIS?

It is believed here that Herr Hitler is seeking nothing less than a new Axis between Berlin and Paris and M. Laval's mooted visit to Berlin is connected with this project.

In support of these reports, the well-informed weekly paper, Foreign Correspondence, says it is believed that Laval is willing to give his backing to the project if the rewards to France are sufficiently inviting.

Diplomatic sources state reports from Europe indicate that Hitler finds Mussolini unreliable and troublesome and he would therefore find the remains of the French Fleet, plus the French Mediterranean bases, more useful against Britain than any contribution Signor Mussolini has yet made or likely to make and he consequently allowed M. Laval to understand that a handsome

THREE OBSTACLES

To these are at present three obstacles—feeling in unoccupied France, Marshal Petain and General Weygand.

M. Laval, it is understood, feels that with the Press under his control and the handsome rewards in the offing (presumably at the expense of both Britain and Italy) he could overcome the French feeling.

Marshal Petain, it is said, however, remains unwilling. General Weygand is difficult to persuade, because he understood the feeling in the semi-independent French Colonial empire in Africa which would be a strong bargaining factor in any future peace conference and he is less sure now than he was in June that Germany will preside at such a conference.

INCIDENTAL DEVELOPMENT

An incidental development in the Mediterranean, according to the same diplomatic sources, is possible German seizure of Trieste.

Washington circles are making the urgent efforts to get Admiral Leahy on his way to Vichy as United States Ambassador with these developments while M. Laval is anxious to get Marshal Petain to Versailles, out of reach of diplomats and Frenchmen who might persuade him not to accept the Hitler plan.

TERRIFIC NAZI AIR LOSSES

British A.A. Gunners Take Heavy Toll

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—In 14 months of the war, Britain and her allies have accounted for over 6,000 enemy planes not including "possibles" or "probables."

To date British anti-aircraft gunners have shot down over 400 enemy planes over Britain, 300 by day and over 100 by night. British losses over Britain total 850 planes or more than a 3-to-1 victory. Better still, 415 pilots were saved to fly again, a victory of 7.1/2 to 1.

Hitler's worst months were August when 1,095 enemy planes were brought down, and September when 1,071 German planes were shot out of the sky.

YESTERDAY'S ACTIVITY

Enemy activity over Britain yesterday was very slight. Shortly after midday, according to an Air Ministry communiqué, bombs were dropped on Dover doing some damage but causing few casualties.

One enemy bomber was shot down over the Dutch coast by British fighters without loss to themselves.

U.S. BUILT PLANES

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—It is revealed that an American built aircraft took the photographs of the damaged Italian warships at Taranto and the R.A.F. are enthusiastic over the performance the American aircraft they are now using.

They have fought their way successfully through many operations, particularly in the Middle East.

The R.A.F. have come to regard with real affection the Lockheed Hudsons which are proving such a valuable aid to Britain's Coastal Command and which have taken part in hundreds of bombing raids from Norway to the Bay of Biscay.

EXECUTIVE YUAN COUNSELLOR

CHUNGKING, Dec. 5 (Central).—The National Government in a minute issued yesterday appointed Mr. Sun Hsiao-lou, Counsellor of the Executive Yuan.

Italy Will Be Broken If She Attacked In Egypt

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Britain has neglected nothing to ensure that Egypt's defences are impregnable, writes the Editor of the Cairo newspaper, Al-Misri, following a tour of the Western Desert.

Signor Mussolini, he writes, gave Marshal Graziani, his most able and experienced desert fighter, the task not only of securing Italian domination of Egypt but also of conquering the Mediterranean and the Red Sea.

The strong defences of the British forces have caused this dream to melt away. If in Albania Italy is already floundering under Greek blow she will snap asunder in the Western Desert.

JAPANESE ARMY PROCLAMATION

SEQUEL TO PEIPING ASSASSINATION

TOKYO, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—A proclamation threatening "effective action" to crush lawlessness in Peiping was issued by the Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Army in North China.

This follows the assassination of a Japanese infantry colonel in the city's main street by an unknown Chinese on Saturday.

Since then the tension has been acute.

The proclamation states that various Japanese and Chinese orders will be used to suppress disorders.

KASSALA SECTOR ACTIVITY

CAIRO, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—British patrols were again active to North and South Kassala inflicting casualties on the enemy without loss to themselves, states yesterday's G.H.Q. communiqué.

There was no change in the situation on other fronts.

MADAME SUN FO TO OPEN CHARITY BAZAAR TODAY

What promises to be a function of considerable interest is the bazaar to be opened at 2.30 p.m. today in the Chinese Recreation Club at Causeway Bay by Mme. Sun Fo, wife of the President of the Legislative Yuan. This bazaar, organised by the Hongkong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association, is under the direction of Mrs. Rose Tan, chairman of the H.K.C.W.S.R.A., and a corps of helpers and there will be attractions and games for old and young.

The bazaar, which will continue for three days beginning this afternoon, will remain open from 2.30 to 11 p.m. today, tomorrow and on Sunday it will be open from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

FUN IN PLENTY

Apart from a dozen kinds of amusements for children, tasty candies, tea and refreshments, fruits, flowers, beautiful flowers, etc., there will be stalls for woolens, and knitted garments, Chinese products, dolls and dolls' cribs, children's clothes, curios and ancient and modern Chinese pictures, needlework, etc. Then the staff of the Sun Ying Ming Photographers' Studio will be on hand to give their services free of charge, while a professional fortune-teller will read one's hands and face and give the entire proceeds to the work of the Hongkong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association.

The Chung Shing Benevolent Society's Band has kindly consented to attend and to render musical selections during the three days of the bazaar.

It is hoped that the public will give the function its fullest support by digging deeper into their pockets and helping a very worthy cause. Incidentally, tickets which are being sold, may be exchanged for goods and one may be sure that one will obtain at this bazaar some very attractive bargains.

Rice Price Fixed By Government

The following order is made by Mr. G. S. Kennedy-Skipiton, Controller of Food, in the Hongkong Government Gazette Extraordinary issued yesterday:

The maximum prices for the following grades of rice shall, until further notice, be as follows:

Grade No. 1	15 cents per catty.
Grade No. 2	15 cents per catty.
Grade No. 3	14 cents per catty.
Broken	12 cents per catty.

EXPORTS PROHIBITED

The following notification was received from the office of the Colonial Secretary yesterday for publication:

"With reference to the Government Gazette Extraordinary published today, it is notified for general information that it is hoped that the measures for the limitation of retail prices of rice are purely temporary in view of the attempted raising of the wholesale price to an unwarrantable level by suppliers abroad. With a view to conservation of adequate stocks here the export of rice from the Colony is being prohibited meanwhile."

The Earl of Abington, Seymour-street, W., was fined £20 at Bow-street for permitting a light to be shown after dark from a bathroom window, the defence pleading that the house had been left in charge of junior servants.

STRONG APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Repair Of Devastated Kunning Hospital

The Hui Tien Hospital, Kunning, was bombed recently by Japanese aircraft and rendered useless and $40,000 is now urgently needed to build emergency accommodation of mud brick to resume its work.

This was revealed on Wednesday evening when a strong appeal for support of the campaign, which was recently launched in aid of the hospital, was made by Dr. W. W. Yen, former Chinese Ambassador to Soviet Russia, at a dinner of the St. John's University Alumni Association.

Dr. Yen stated that of the amount needed two-thirds have already been pledged by Hongkong individuals and public organisations, the Hongkong Chinese Bankers' Association having promised to contribute $10,000, the Bank of China, $5,000, while the Chinese Red Cross Society is to raise a handsome amount.

The Hui Tien Hospital is the only British Medical establishment on the Burma Road between Lashio and Chungking and is the largest in Yunnan and Kweichow.

FOREIGNER FOUND DEAD IN SHAI

NO CLUES AS TO IDENTITY

West Hongkong detectives were confronted with a mystery in Shanghai, on Nov. 28, following the discovery of a male foreigner in Lane 59 off North Kianse Road at 5.30 a.m. The man was taken to the General Hospital in an emergency ambulance, but no aid was required as the man was dead.

The deceased appeared to be about 55 years of age, was slightly bald, with a gray moustache and a goatee beard. When discovered, he was wearing a checked gray coat, leather jerkin, gray gabardine trousers and brown boots.

No clues as to his identity were found by the police, who, however, stated that he had a Union Jack emblem in the lapel of his coat. He was also tattooed on both arms. A dagger and heart were on the right arm, while a flower with "Union" crossed flags, a cross and figures 26-12-71 were on the left. The man was about six feet tall.

The tattoo marks and the Union Jack emblem led the detectives to believe that the deceased was a Briton, but his identity continued to remain a mystery.—N.C.D.N.

CATTLE DEALER KIDNAPPED IN SHANGHAI

With one kidnapping case still unsolved in Shanghai, Bubbling Well station detectives were faced with another mystery on Nov. 23 when Tang Wu-sung, a cattle dealer, was carried away from a Chinese tea house at 65 Avenue Haig at about 7.30 a.m., reports the North China Daily News. This crime came close on the heels of the abduction of a four-year old Chinese boy, who was taken away by gangsters.

The latest victim, a wealthy cattle dealer, is 37 years old and a native of Fooking. He resides at 1482/17 Avenue Edward VII. On Nov. 23, he was sitting tea at the Avenue Haig tea house when five armed men came in in a Taylor Garage hire car.

VICTIM SINGLED OUT.—Telling the chauffeur to wait for them, the men entered the place where they intimidated the patrons with their guns and singled out their victim. They then left the tea house and ordered the chauffeur to drive to Yu Yuen Road.

When the latter hesitated, the kidnappers told him that they were from 78 Jessfield Road. At the corner of Yu Yuen and Tifeng Roads, the chauffeur was thrown out of the taxi, which sped along in a westerly direction, driven by one of the gang. The chauffeur went to the Bubbling Well police station immediately where he reported the case.

The taxi was later found in Yu Yuen Road, but no further developments in the case were reported yesterday.

Commercial Department Debate

ASIA'S ECONOMIC PROGRESS

An inter-class debate on the subject "That the economic progress of Asia depends more on America than on Europe," was held by the Commercial Department of the University yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Ratna Kutrakul, senior, led the proposition with Mr. Yeung as seconder. Mr. Tang Sin-ken, junior, was the only opposition speaker since his seconder did not turn up at the last moment.

The proposition argued that Europe of today was torn by war and would forever be haunted by war, since the end of one war meant the preparation for another. Statistics were produced to show the obvious trend increasing reliance of the new, vigorous, and an awakening Asia on America for economic progress.

POLITICAL FACTORS

The opposer's refutation was based on historical background and political factors. America with its foreign policy of non-involvement in the politics of countries other than its own would never do, unless with the full co-operation of Russia and Great Britain, he said. Concluding, he livedhood, law and order, and institution of Asia, only Great Britain and other great European countries had the capacity to do so.

A straw vote was cast by the audience at the end of the debate, which resulted in 13-9 against the resolution.

Miss Archer and Prof. Robertson, of the Department, were present. Mr. Luk Man-hei was in the chair.

HONGKONG, DECEMBER 6, 1940.

PROFITEERING

THE REACTIONS of the public in Hongkong to the alarming increase in the price of rice locally show how seriously the problem is viewed by nearly every section of the community. The question everyone is asking is: Where is the justification for this increase in the price of a staple commodity when the Colony was assured not so long ago that there were sufficient stocks in the Colony to meet any emergency? The error that has been made appears to be that the question of control of food prices has, in the main, been solely directed towards imported canned goods, when only a relatively small proportion of the population in Hongkong depend on such commodities for their daily consumption. Even this control has given rise to a deal of profiteering, as retailers, who were previously selling below the control price, lost no time in increasing the prices on their stocks in hand to the level fixed by the controller. With no control so far over the price of rice, profiteers jumped at the first opportunity of filling their pockets at the expense of the poorest section of the population, as the soaring prices of the last few days has shown.

WITH THE EXPERIENCE of the 1925 rice riots before them, it is gratifying to learn that the Government is now devising a scheme for fixing the retail price of rice which, according to the Food Controller, "will be fair to all parties concerned." It is important that this scheme should be put into operation without loss of time and we have no doubt that the Government is well aware of its urgency. The difficulty with which the Government is faced seems to be in finding the necessary transportation for rice from Thailand and Indo-China, owing to the present uncertainty in those countries. Rice dealers are apparently aware of this and are using it to an unscrupulous advantage. It is understood that the Government is studying means to enable the shipping of rice to be resumed from outside the Colony, but, in the meantime, strict price control will do much to alleviate the present distress.

RACKETEERING

HAND IN HAND with profiteering in the Colony—and incidentally this profiteering is also evident in other essentials, such as meat, pork, poultry and charcoal, to name just a few—goes racketeering. The present difficulties which the people of Hongkong are enduring in the matter of their daily existence and obedience to orders and restrictions imposed on them are providing the "squeeze" racketeers with glorious opportunities for continuing their nefarious methods. The ramp that is being operated now against those who daily crowd round the Immigration Office is a glaring example of the fine art to which this contemptible practice has been brought. This particularly obnoxious form of

NO CASE TO ANSWER:
CLAIM FOR KEROSENE
OIL DISMISSED

A claim for $948, being the value of 330 tins of kerosene oil which plaintiffs alleged were wrongfully taken by the defendant, and converted to her own use, was brought by the Man Hing Tai firm, of Shataukok, against Ko Lai-sang, woman, trading as the Yat Sang Cheung firm, also of Shataukok, before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Supreme Court yesterday.

Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ appeared for the plaintiffs, while the defendant was represented by Mr. A. S. K. Lau.

Mr. Russ said that plaintiffs and defendant both carried on business at Shataukok, where they each had a shop on the British side of the border. The business of the defendant involved the ordering, on a small scale, of kerosene, whilst that of the plaintiffs also involved the ordering of kerosene but on a much larger scale.

After detailing two incidents which occurred before the present action, and in which, Mr. Russ said, plaintiffs had once seen defendant taking part of a consignment of kerosene belonging to them, and on another occasion when they had taken delivery of four tins of kerosene consigned to the defendant, Mr. Russ went on to say that these two incidents made the defendant very angry and that she threatened that she would take 100 tins of plaintiffs' kerosene for every one they took of hers.

VERY CROWDED

Mr. Russ went on to say that the kerosene were ordered from the A. P. Co., through their agents at Tai-po—the Yee Wo firm—by the plaintiffs' agents, the Shun Cheung Tai firm. A truck was sent by the plaintiffs on April 3 to take delivery of the oil, and the truck arrived at Shataukok on April 4, which was a "fair" day and also the day before the Ching Ming festival. Shataukok was very crowded on that day.

The lorry driver, on arrival, left the delivery chit on the desk in plaintiffs' premises, where it was overlooked. Defendant, noticing the large stock of kerosene on the truck with nobody taking delivery of it, got a few of her tins together and took delivery of the 300 tins. The lorry driver, who saw that they were plaintiffs' people—as were the plaintiffs—permitted them to remove the kerosene without asking them for the delivery chit.

When, after four or five days, plaintiffs found that the oil did not arrive they began to get suspicious. The accountant approached the defendant about the matter, but she denied all knowledge of the consignment. A kaifong also approached the defendant on behalf of the plaintiffs, as

"squeeze," of filching a couple of dollars from would-be applicants for the permits required under the new law, in order to make it possible for them to get the business over quickly, is being committed openly on one of Hongkong's main thoroughfares with the most amazing audacity.

BETTER POLICE supervision would probably reduce the evil practice to some extent, but would it not be better to make the crowds outside this office understand clearly that application forms can be obtained by writing in to the department concerned, or for provision to be made for dealing with a number of them commensurate with the ability of the staff at the Immigration Office and dispersing the rest? The question of protecting the public from squeeze rackets of this sort, however, is a very big one. The ramps round the cinemas and football grounds, where the sale of tickets is used to obtain an illegal profit from patrons and many other similar rackets, will all come within the purview of a general clean-up, if such is contemplated. All this makes it incumbent on the authorities to take drastic steps to rid the Colony of the undesirable who have managed to get in here and who are mainly responsible for this growing and intolerable menace.

FORKS LEAVE

Nothing happened, went on Mr. Russ, until some time after when two forks of the defendant's firm left and applied to another shop for a job. When asked why he left his former employment, one of the men said that he did not like the place and because his mistress was dishonest in that she had taken somebody's kerosene. This information was given to the Man Hing Tai firm.

On Dec. 3, said Mr. Russ, these two forks called at his office in a great state of agitation and stated that they had been threatened with gaol by one "Wong Wah" if they should give evidence on behalf of the plaintiffs. On his, Mr. Russ, writing to Mr. Lau in connexion with this matter the latter replied that the conversation between Wong Wah and the two ex-forks was of a very friendly nature.

After evidence had been given by Chan Chin, the accountant of plaintiffs' firm, Yau Kwan the lorry driver, a Chinese detective Wong Chark and Chan Shing, the two former forks, who gave contradictory evidence, his Lordship said after hearing all the evidence he found that the defendant had no case to answer. Judgment would, accordingly, be given for defendant with costs.

LIVING THE LIFE OF A
THEOSOPHISTLecture By Rev.
J. L. Hadaway

The Rev. J. L. Hadaway, who will leave for the United States shortly, gave a very interesting lecture on "Living the theosophical life" at the Theosophical Society last evening.

The speaker explained what is the theosophical life, how it is different from ordinary life, and methods of living it.

Referring to a theosophist's life, Mr. Hadaway said that the life characterized by the theosophist did not differ much in outward seeming from that of the man of the world.

Continuing, Mr. Hadaway stressed that everyone in the world had his own code, but in living a theosophical life one should be broad-minded.

Mr. Hadaway said that it was only when we lived theosophy that we could be able to convince others of what we said.

Dr. A. Fung, President of the Society, presided.

HELPING WAR EFFORT

Mobile Canteens For London People Bombed
Out Of Their Homes

The following is a copy of a telegram from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, London, to the Acting Governor, Hongkong, dated Oct. 4, 1940:—

I am encouraged by the generosity shown by Colonial Governments to suggest for your consideration a further method of helping war effort which I hope will appeal to you particularly because of intimate link it will create between the Colonies and the public here.

Briefly, the proposal is that Colonial Governments should divert proportion of the funds either already subscribed or which they are proposing to contribute towards war effort, for the purchase of small mobile canteens for serving hot drinks and food to the people in London and other centres who have been bombed out of their homes or who during the coming winter will have to spend long anxious nights in shelter away from their homes.

The Ministry of Food are extremely keen to co-operate and each canteen provided by a Colonial Government would bear prominently the name of the Colony (or some suitable local name if preferred). All possible publicity will be given and I know the form of help more than almost any other will serve to keep the name of the Colonies before the public and remind them vividly of the interest taken and the generous help given by the Colonies in time of trial.

The type of canteen to be used is at present under discussion. No details of cost are available but might range from approximately £185 to £1,000 dependent on the type finally chosen. If this idea appeals to you, as I very much hope it will, please let me know as early as possible and in the meantime any funds you are able to remit will be used to the best possible advantage.

LLOYD

ENTIRE AGREEMENT

The telegram from the Acting Governor, Hongkong, to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, London, dated Oct. 31, 1940, stated:—

Your personal telegram of Oct. 4. I entirely agree with the diversion from the funds already contributed of appropriate sum for one or more mobile canteens, at your discretion.

GRATEFUL THANKS

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, London, sent the following telegram to the Acting Governor, Hongkong, dated Dec. 1, 1940:—

To help in urgently needed relief at Coventry arrangements were made for a mobile canteen to be put into immediate service in the city as a gift from the Colonial Empire. I felt sure that this action would accord with the wishes of the Colonial Empire and I have now had a message from the Mayor expressing deep appreciation of the citizens of Coventry and asking that their grateful thanks may be conveyed to the people of the Colonial Empire.

MOBILE CANTEENS

A sum of £1,500 has been remitted by cable to the Home Organisation on behalf of this colony towards the purchase of Mobile Canteens. These vehicles are greatly needed to carry food and comforts to the bombed areas to serve the homeless and desolate, the anti-aircraft warden, and various services engaged in rescue work.

The B.W.O.F. appeals to the generous public of Hongkong for donations. Amounts so subscribed should kindly be sent to the Hon. Treasurer, B.W.O.F. c/o the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corp., with instructions to earmark such monies for the purchase of "Mobile Canteens."

Rockbottom Character Of British Soldier Remains The Same

EDUCATION STANDARD HIGHER: PHYSIQUE IMPROVED

Whatever differences there may be between the British Army of 1914 and the British Army of 1940, the rock-bottom character of the men remains the same," said MAJOR E. HASTINGS, a well-known military expert, when he spoke in London yesterday on the course and prospects of the war.

Pirates Take Cargo Valued At $20,000

INCIDENT NEAR WAGLAN

Cargo to the total value of $20,000 was stolen by armed pirates inside British waters yesterday morning, according to a report made to the Police by Li Chau, master of trading junk No. TS180H.

The attack occurred about 1 a.m. near Waglan Lighthouse where three Hoklo junks drew alongside and fired a few shots at the trading craft.

The pirates sailed the junk to Po Tsoi Island where the master, a cargo owner and the crew were put ashore.

The victims were picked up by a passing junk and brought back to the Colony.

ANOTHER ATTACK

Another junk master, Sin King-fuk of No. T4791H, has reported that his junk was attacked by six robbers' sampans off Cheung Sha Village, Luk Fung district, outside of Colony waters and a cargo, including 240 sacks of rice, an anchor, length of wire and clothing, to the total value of $4,000, was taken. The robbers were armed with rifles.

During the last few months, he said, he had seen the British Army doing guard along the Channel coast, manning searchlights and anti-aircraft guns and it was interesting to note the differences between this Army and that of 1914.

There was no doubt about one thing—the standard of education was much higher and the physique showed a great improvement.

Major Hastings went on to quote a passage from Shakespeare's "King Henry the Fifth" where a conversation took place between the King and the rank and file on the eve of battle. Those men, he said, might have been the men of 1914 or the men of 1940.

"Fight? Yes, they will fight alright," said the speaker, "and without illusions and ballyhoo."

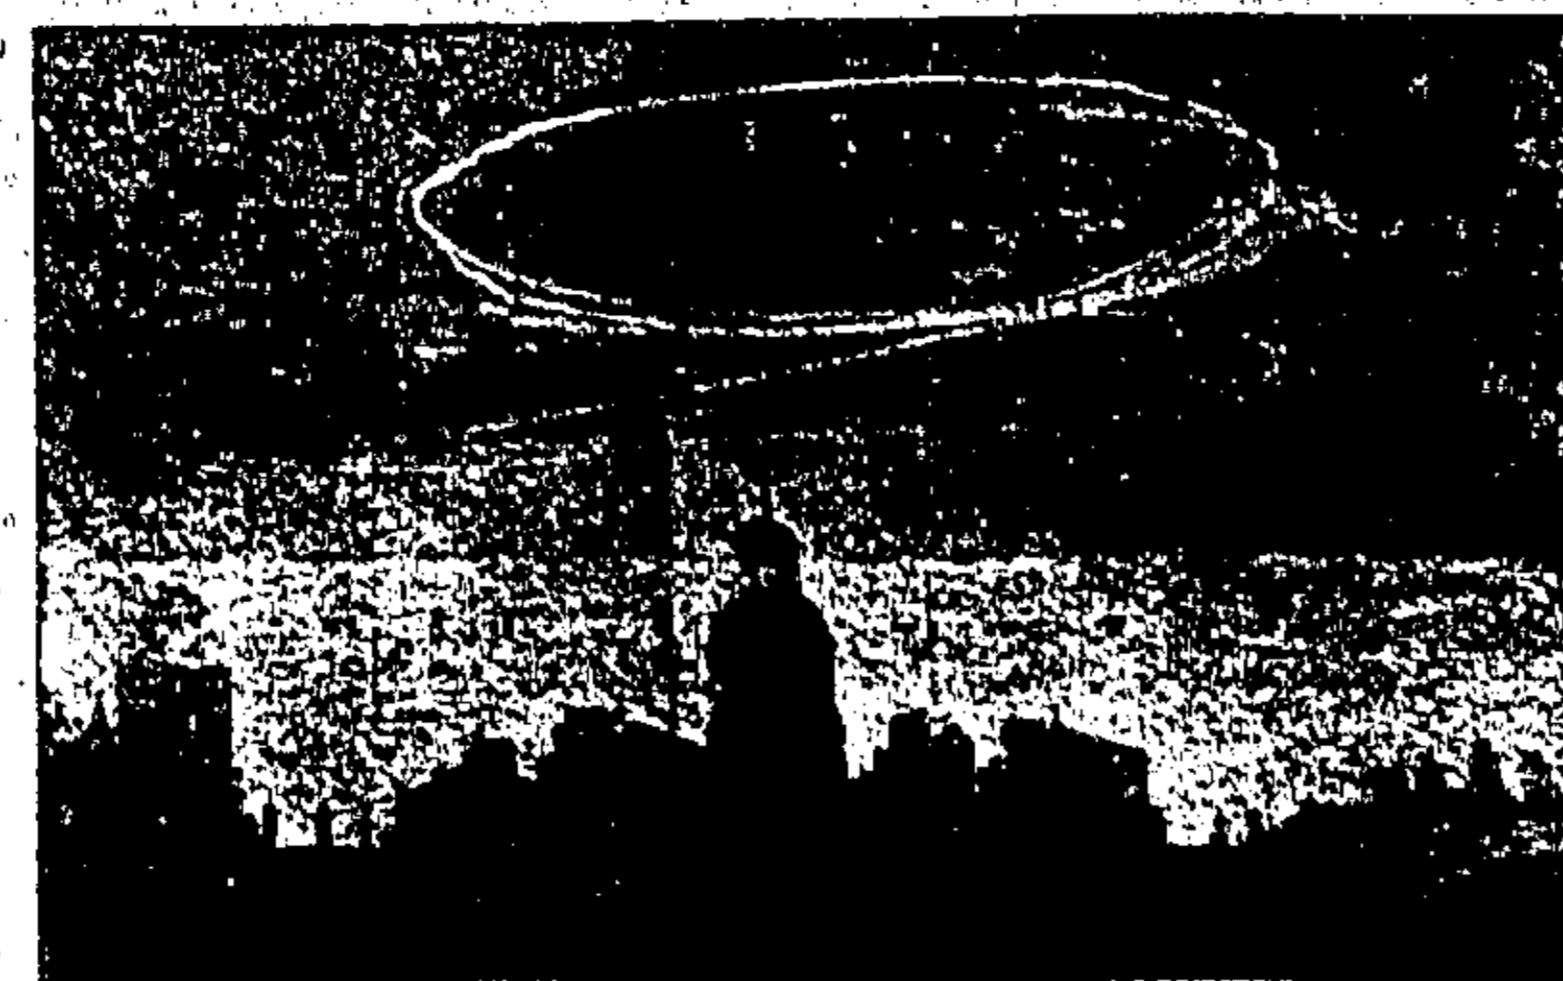

CAUSE IS JUST

The conversation, said Major Hastings, was in connection with the King's remark, "Our cause is just and honourable" to which the reply was grudgingly given "That's more than we know."

"That is where those men of Agincourt differ from the men of today," said Major Hastings. "We know too well of the Nazi methods—yes, we know, they have brought home to us all right."

The speaker went on to state that his job was concerned with the anti-aircraft defences and his work made it necessary for him to know something about the vapours that came overhead.

New C.-In-C. Far East To Visit Hongkong

Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, the newly appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Far East, is to visit Hongkong shortly to inspect the defences, according to a Reuter message from Singapore. Sir Robert later expects to visit Australia and New Zealand.

In an interview with the Singapore Free Press, Sir Robert stated that reinforcements of men and material were continuing to arrive in the British possession in the Far East, making Britain's strength more complete.

Sir Robert disclosed that before leaving England, he was told by Mr. Churchill Britain would hold Singapore no matter what happened and Sir Robert could rest assured "there will be a continuous and steady flow of men and munitions to the countries in my command and that he is sparing no effort to make Singapore and other British countries in East Asia as strong, and as well defended as possible."

Britain And S. America

IMPORTANT EVENT IN RELATIONS

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Although the British Trade Mission to South America has only been here for four days, it has already met with great success and the visit has come to be regarded as one of the most important events in the history of British relations with South America.

Businessmen are so anxious to meet members of the Mission, that they queued up for tickets for today's luncheon given by the British Chamber of Commerce, when 700 British and Argentine businessmen and Argentine officials will meet the visitors.

The boy was seriously injured and was found to be dead on arrival at the hospital.

The father has been arrested, according to a Police report.

RICE PRICES CRITICISED

Rice is usually bought by the picul, by those able to afford it, or by the dollar by the majority of the working class, when it fixed the prices at so much per catty or so much per five catties. Nobody, excepting the very poor, ever buy rice by the catty, went on the informant, and to so quote affords the retailer an exceptional opportunity of squeezing on every dollar's worth sold.

For instance: in the case of Grades 1 and 2, quoted at 15 cents per catty, one should get 6 catties, 10 taels, 10 and point six mace to a dollar. The weight given by the retailer would be 6 catties and 10 taels—at the very most!

Unless Government fixes a heavy penalty for selling above the fixed prices, the retailers will set the Government ruling at naught, said one of those interviewed.

And, he went on to ask, what is there to prevent the retailer from "fixing" his scales? And will there be any Government officials going around to see that the prices are being adhered to, as in the case of the tinne provisions, when several leading stores were fined for selling at above the fixed prices?

KOWLOON CHESS SURPRISE

E. de Carvalho beat W. O'Sullivan and B. D. Evans ended in a draw as did that between C. M. Sequeira and G. S. Coxhead. In a Junior Tournament game, J. Greifeld beat F. A. Fabel.

Freedom Vs. Discipline

"It is Hitler's off-repeated boast that he is bringing back discipline to a world dissolved and disintegrated by democracy. That is his mission, symbolised by jackboots and whips. Yet it is a mission which cannot simply be dismissed with contempt," says the Church Times.

"When the ordering of their lives or choice as beyond their individual capacity to accomplish, they entrust authority to select or to dictatorial juntas, the only rulers, to act as instruments of justification of the dictation is the common wisdom and the common purpose. The sanctions here are not arbitrariness and violence, good for the average man, and know better how to bring it about, son, because of the faith that the right practical courses for society can be impartially ascertained; and responsibility, because the power that is abused can be taken away and transferred to better hands."

SELF-IMPOSED DISCIPLINE
There is no necessary connection between democracy and discipline. The discipline of a democratic society is in principle self-imposed, since it proceeds from the fundamental consent of free personalities.

A free and uncorrupted people readily obeys the leaders whom it trusts, simply because it judges them trustworthy and so long as it retains intelligence, impartiality, and self-command, repudiates alike the inefficient, the immoral, and the self-seeking.

"Such a social pyramid, based on personality, is not merely democratic, but the only kind of social system consonant with Christianity, which teaches that God made all men with infinite individual value and potential worth, that He has revealed the right way of self-discipline through the moral order of mankind and history, and that He has more than compensated for the frailty of human nature by the saving power of divine grace."

A Christian democracy can pave the way in human hearts and institutions for the increasing reign of God on earth.

GUNS AND BUTTER THEORY
"So it is held down that guns are better than butter, matter is more important than mind, cruelty more praiseworthy than culture, barbarism more desirable than the worship of God. It all comes back to this. Power is given or assumed of arbitrary decision, both on policy and methods, based on irrational force, and issuing in complete control of human lives."

"We do not say that such a system is not effective, for its own ends and within its special limitations. For gaining quick results, such as a lightning victory over the unarmed or the rapid demoralization of nations which are sick in soul, it is the most effective system yet invented."

"But on a longer view it is a system bound to fail, for rational intelligence is not a quality confined to self-constituted mandarins, and conscience has a disconcerting way of reasserting its claims."

"The generality of men—it is simple truth—are not brutes. They possess both minds and wills. And though a combination of disillusionment and propaganda may reduce them temporarily to a state of mental and moral deficiency, there always comes a time when people find they cannot live by bread alone, not least when they have not even bread. Then they seek themselves whether the whole conception of discipline to which they have been subjected does not need radical revision."

"Instead of looking for an iron will to order their affairs from without, the democratic seek a means of ordering their principle assumes that men rather seek a means of ordering their affairs corporately, by a union rather than a denial of free will, and so arriving at solutions not so much outside their own capacity

Conserving Petrol

"PART OF WAR EFFORT"

"We are at war, and the conservation of petrol is a most important part of Australia's war effort," said the Minister of Supply, Sir Frederick Stewart, commenting on a report that Sir Earle Page proposed to move for the disallowance of the petrol rationing regulations.

"That is my answer to Sir Earle Page and others who, for various reasons, mostly selfish, are associating themselves with him in this matter," he added.

"Both the Government and myself have been severely criticised for our reluctance to bring petrol under control at a much earlier date."

"Great Britain's capacity to draw upon outside sources to supplement her own great munitions effort will be imperilled if the constituent parts of the Empire are not prepared to impose some restriction on their overseas expenditure."

"Every million pounds spent by Australia for foreign petrol means one million pounds worth less of vital equipment available for the defence of London, and when London is being defended Australia is being defended."

"It is clear, therefore, that whether the impelling motive be political or personal, those who are now so roundly criticising the Government's action in regard to petrol control are, wittingly or otherwise, doing a disservice to the Empire's war effort."

LICENCES ISSUED

Sir Frederick said that the chairman of the Central Control Board had assured him on Friday that all applications for licences, except few that required special investigation, had been dealt with and the licences issued. Provision had been made for special action in respect of remote areas, to overcome the possibility of any inconvenience.

It was only natural to expect that quite a number of appeals would be made against this allotted ration, some of these being because of insufficient information on the original application, and others because of special circumstances which merited special treatment.

The Central Control Board had, however, vested in the State Boards complete power and authority to exercise wide discretion in order that inconvenience might be reduced to an absolute minimum. Any person who was dissatisfied with the ration allotted to him had the right of appeal for review, and the Central Board had been asked to make the greatest effort to grant requests dealing with all such appeals.

However inconvenient and even annoying petrol rationing might be, it represented only a small contribution by Australians towards the supreme effort now being required of their kinsmen in other parts of the world.

Frenchmen Kidnapped

TOKYO, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—An undisclosed number of Frenchmen and other Westerners were kidnapped in recent weeks in the southern portion of Indo-China, Japanese reports from Hanoi state.

The crimes were perpetrated over a period covering the last two weeks and reports state that some of the victims were rescued by Police and French Army authorities. It is said that four rebellious natives were killed in the course of the operation.

Meanwhile, further reports from Saigon assert the rebels are setting fire to French houses in the country districts.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—

After having been in the hands of kidnapers since Nov. 29, Mr. Percy Chu, well-known Chinese banker, has regained his freedom, according to the Chinese press.

It is not known yet whether Mr. Chu was released after paying a ransom or what was the motive for the kidnapping.

VIGOROUS CHINESE ATTACK IN ICHANG

JAP. OBSERVATION POST DESTROYED

CHUNGKING, Dec. 5 (Central).—Chinese troops unleashed a vigorous attack against the Japanese on the south bank at Ichang, upper Yangtze port in Hubei, on Nov. 30, exacting a heavy toll of lives.

On the same day several Chinese columns launched simultaneous attacks at Fachi in the Ichang sector. Breaking through the Japanese barbed-wire entanglements they challenged the Japanese to hand-to-hand fighting. Japanese casualties were heavy.

On the north Yangtze bank Chinese troops made an attack at Nanhsuan under a protective barrage early in the morning of Dec. 1.

Japanese troops marching from Wuliashin in the southern suburbs of Tungcheng in south Hubei into Tungcheng were intercepted and decimated on Dec. 1.

ARTILLERY DUEL

Japanese artillery on the north bank of the Shintiang River in north Hunan shelled the Chinese positions in the neighbourhood on the morning of Dec. 1. Chinese guns replied and destroyed a Japanese observation post.

Fighting has flared up again in north Kiangsu. Japanese troops, based at Hwaiian pushed south while those based at Paoying drove north. They met with strong Chinese resistance.

Japanese sailing out from Kaoyu in steam and wooden boats were attacked by the Chinese. Three steam boats and several wooden boats were sunk. The Japanese fled back to Kaoyu.

Chinese Preparations
For Large-Scale
Offensive

SHANGHAI, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—
The Chinese press reports that the Chinese High Command are reverbly preparing for a large-scale general offensive next spring.
More than 500 trucks recently arrived from America are now being used to transport military supplies to the northern and southern fronts.

Every effort is being made to provide the Chinese forces in all areas with adequate quantities of war material.

WAR OFFICE MAY BAN TREATING

The War Office is giving further consideration to the question of making a "no treating" order, similar to that introduced during the last war.

Service men themselves have complained of being embarrassed by members of the public who insist on "treating" them and offer them drinks if they decline.

To avoid a scene, the men often drink glasses of beer which they do not want.

Certain executive officers at the War Office are in favour of the introduction of a "no treating" order.

But there are difficulties in the method of administering it, as it is likely in some cases to result in harassment on the part of the public.

As a compromise, an announcement may be made, shortly appearing to the public to refrain from pressing drinks on servicemen.

Licenses will be asked to use their influence by declining to serve drinks when they consider men have had enough.

The "doping" of soldiers in public houses is also to be tackled.
It will be one of the first jobs of the new squad of Scotland Yard officers which has been assigned to the War Office.

It is not suggested that soldiers

CHOPPER ATTACK SEQUEL
Two brothers appeared before
Mr. G.T. Lowry yesterday in connection with a chopper attack on Nov. 23.

Chan Yu-chee, 30, was charged with wounding his brother, Chan
Yu-wong with a chopper at No.
29 Queen's Road Central, ground floor. Defendant pleaded guilty.
Det.-Sgt. W. Summers said that on Nov. 23 about 6.15 p.m. defendant, who had been drinking, had a quarrel with his brother about the accounts of their business.
Defendant went to the workshop and took a chopper and struck complainant on the head. Complainant had been in hospital since then.

Defendant was remanded in Police custody for 24 hours for consideration of sentence.

COOLIE BOUND OVER

Cheng Man-wong, 25, house coolie, was bound over in a personal bond of $50 for six months
when he appeared before Mr.
Lowry yesterday on remand.

Cheng was charged with stealing $40 from his brother, Cheng
Yee-cheung, cook boy, at No. 10
Leighton Hill Road on Nov. 30.
Det.-Sgt. J. Bentley, who prosecuted, stated that Mr. Davis was willing to take defendant back into employment.

AT KOWLOON

ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

Wong Kaa, 23, was charged before Mr. E. Himsforth yesterday with impersonating a Police officer and with attempted extortion of $5 from a hawker, Tsang Kaa.

It was stated that the complainant was walking along Temple Street, near Public Square, Street, about 3 a.m. on Monday when two men came up to him, one holding him by the hand, the other flashing a torch light on his face. The defendant told Tsang that he was a Police officer and had to take the complainant to the Police Station.

He remarked that complainant had to pay $5 bail at the Police Station and asked the latter whether he rather paid him the money or go to the Station.

A Policeman on duty in the vicinity came to the scene and the complainant told him what was happening and the defendant was arrested.

The accused was fined $200 or three weeks on the first charge and six months on the second charge, the sentences to run consecutively.

DOCTOR VICTIMISED

Sentence of three months' imprisonment, followed by expulsion, was imposed by Mr. Himsforth yesterday on Fok Ping, 17, for larceny of $681.77 Hongkong currency and Ys.43.75, by servant and for larceny of $22 from No. 10
Ashley Road.

Defendant was employed by Dr.
S. Hara as a servant. In the absence of the employer, the defendant stole the money and some private papers on Wednesday. The

LATEST GIFTS
FOR PURCHASE OF SPITFIRES

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).

—The latest gift for Spitfires is an unusual one—it comes from the Italians themselves!
In recent raids on enemy positions in Africa, soldiers of the Gold Coast Brigade found some lira which the Italians had left behind.
This money has now been sent to a "Spitfire" fund.

Other gifts include the purchase price of three "Spitfires" from a Newfoundland fund.

The British community in the Argentine has sent £25,000 for the purchase of aircraft for the Fleet Air Arm.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX

In Trinidad, an excess profits tax is to be imposed on companies so that more monetary aid can be sent to Britain.

This tax, says the Governor of Trinidad, will be used to increase contributions to the British Government's special naval and military services from £209,000 to £280,000 a year, and to make a further special gift of £52,000 to Britain.

The Mysore War Fund has sent £1,500 to the Lord Mayor of London's air-raid distress fund.

larceny of $22 was committed on the previous day.

THEFT OF BICYCLE

Convicted of larceny of a push bicycle outside No. 7, Saigon Street, Wat Ping-chiu, 21, was fined $10 or, in default, 14 days' hard labour by Mr. A. N. Mac-fadyen yesterday.

LEARNER DRIVERS FINED

Two learner drivers, Ho Kit, of
No. 25, Austin Road, and Ho Chi-fay, were summoned before Mr.
Macfadyen yesterday for driving in a road other than specified in their licences.

Each of the accused was fined $5.

COMMITTED TO SESSIONS

Lai Yee-chung was charged before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday with uttering two forged $10 notes of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, on two different occasions and with possession of same.

Det.-Sgt. N. B. Fraser, who conducted the prosecution, said that the defendant went to the Lo Sam
Kee eating-house at Reclamation Street about 8 p.m. on Nov. 28 and after finishing eating defendant tendered a $10 note in payment of the 20 cents meal.

The master was suspicious of it, but after having been assured by the accused, handed over the change of $8.80. Later he found out that the note was a forgery and told his folk to look out for the defendant if he should appear again.

Two days later about the same time the defendant came to take his meal again. When he finished he was alleged to have produced another forged $10 note. On seeing that it was a forgery, the master asked him to have it changed.
The defendant said that he had none and was arrested. It was alleged that the accused tried to escape when the note was found to be a forgery.

After evidence given by Mr. Lai Centre, of the Kowloon branch of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, who testified that the notes were forgeries and by other witnesses, the defendant was committed for trial.

The defendant denied that he was the one who produced the forged note on the first occasion and said that he had no knowledge that the note was a forgery.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED

Hearing of the case, in which Tam Kam-lu, wireless operator, was charged with possession of a transmitting wireless set at No. 93, Prince Edward Road, was concluded before Mr. Himsforth yesterday.

After further evidence and before the passing of sentence, Mr.
M. A. de Silva, who appeared for the defendant, submitted that the evidence given in Court was purely circumstantial and in view of the fact that evidence given by the defendant and the prosecutor were both consistent there must be some reasonable doubt, and the defendant should be given the benefit of that doubt. Under such circumstances, Mr. Silva requested his Worship to discharge the defendant.

After careful examination of the evidence the accused was convicted and fined $500 or, in default, 10 weeks in prison.

JAPANESE IN HAWAII
CAUGHT BETWEEN U.S.
& TOKYO POLICIES

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 28.—Hawaii, scarcely known to the United States' founding fathers, rapidly was becoming today perhaps the most vital testing ground of their constitutional theories, with immense consequence to American policy in the Pacific.

The question involved, fundamentally, is whether this rich territory, strongly fortified and guarded will continue to function as a solid unit despite a population consisting of more than one-fourth Japanese.

Relations between Japan and the United States now are considered the most strained in history. The United States fleet has been based in Hawaiian waters for seven months, and commanding officers indicate it will remain there indefinitely. Its presence is a symbol of the urgent necessity that lies behind the diplomatic policies of Washington and Tokyo.

PECULIAR PROBLEMS

To the Japanese in Hawaii, alien or citizen, the situation presents peculiar and distressing problems. They total about 155,000 persons, of whom 115,000 are American citizens by virtue of their birth in Hawaii.

All of the older Japanese have been in the territory for years since immigration from Japan actually ceased more than two decades ago when it was agreed no more Japanese labourers would enter American territory.

Since 1924 it has been impossible for these older Japanese to become American citizens, under terms of American legislation.
Further complicating their status and that of their children is the "dual citizenship" practice of the Japanese home authorities whereby Japanese citizenship is retained by all persons of Japanese ancestry whose birth is registered with Japanese consular or diplomatic representatives.

TWO EVENTS

Two events served to place
Hawaii's Japanese in an uncertain state within the last year: the United States abrogated the 1911 amity and commerce treaty, and the securities and exchange commission forbade Hawaii Japanese purchasers of unregistered Japanese war bonds.

Most of the Japanese businesses and land holdings are in the hands of the "older generation." They consequently view the present situation with definite fear.

To their children the problem is far more acute. Americans they find themselves suspected by outsiders and crudely lumped with Orientals not eligible for citizenship. Under the traditionality strong influence of their parents they have preserved religious and racial characteristics and customs.

Recent figures indicated that of 46,370 Japanese in territorial schools, 43,150 attended Japanese language schools in addition.

CLEAVAGE INTENSIFIED
Japan's adherence to the Berlin-Rome Axis only serves to intensify the cleavage between Tokyo and Washington, and to leave Hawaii's Japanese in an ever more uncertain position.

Hawaii's white business leaders unqualifiedly stands by the proven loyalty of Japanese-Americans.
They regard them as American as any racial segment of the United States—perhaps more so. It is to be remembered that Japan at home for decades has been patterned life after the western mode, adopting western dress, movies, automobiles and speech.

The Hawaii-born Japanese can only be uncomfortable and ill-placed in any return to pure Japanese Orientalism and Asiatic custom.

Yet Japan itself is heaving rigidly to the "New Order in Asia" line laid down at the start of the China campaign, and seems to be heading for a direct conflict with Anglo-American joint Pacific policy.

U.S. COMMITMENTS
The United States appears committed to defence of the Philippine Islands until those islands are finally independent, and likewise to all possible aid to China.
Japanese attacks on any British possessions in the Far East unquestionably would be followed by extremely strong Washington reaction. The United States recently was reported to have assured French Indo-China of material support as long as its government offered any effective, independent resistance to Japanese encroachment.

Thus, Hawaii's Japanese find themselves caught between Tokyo and Washington diplomatic, military and naval policies, heading for a definite showdown.

Nazi Economic Domination
Is ChallengedANGLO AGREEMENT WITH TURKEY

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—
The Anglo-Turkish financial agreement is not only of commercial but also of political significance, and is, in fact, a challenge by the British Government to German economic domination in the Balkans, writes Reuter's Diplomatic correspondent.

It is believed possible that Germany may put forward a tempting commercial proposition to Turkey but the agreement should prevent her ever getting her old economic predominance over Turkish economy.

The agreement is the result of long discussion and covers the whole field of financial and commercial relations between the parties. It will facilitate the purchase of Turkish agricultural and other products the disposal of which is necessary to her national economy. The purchase will run into millions of sterling.

U.K. COMMODITIES

The agreement will also enable the Turkish government and local importers to import from the United Kingdom and the Empire not only goods required for government institutions but other commodities such as wool, required by the producer.

Full use will be made of United Kingdom commercial co-opera-gulations of the General Post Office, the Intermex should be given a portion of the type. Mr.

warded to the informant.

BRITISH LOAN
TO CHINA?

SHANGHAI, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—
Close on the heels of America's recent $500,000,000 loan to China the British Government is reported to be considering a £20,000,000 credit to China, according to Chinese press dispatches this morning.

Previously Britain had granted
China a £3,000,000 loan.

Another Chinese report says negotiations for a huge loan from Britain to Russia are proceeding smoothly.

Death Sentence On Nine Poles

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—
Nine Poles were sentenced to death at Poznan, in German-occupied Poland, today, a German wireless.

With 28 others they were charged with committing acts of violence against the Germans.

The remainder were sentenced to long terms of hard labour and imprisonment.

The conference of British and American experts to give practical effect to the bases agreed to America is to be held shortly in London. Topics of discussion,
Reuter learns, are to be the judicial and administrative of the regions concerned. The governments of Newfoundland and Bermuda have already been invited.

Rumania's Lost Control:
Discussion In Commons

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The position of Rumania, the German attitude toward Petain's France and the lease of bases to the United States, were among the questions which came up for discussion today during a busy session of the House of Commons.

Defining the position in regard to Rumania, the Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, Mr. R. A.
Butler, said that within the last few months, "the Rumanian government have, on their own admission, invited German troops to enter Rumania. During that period, German troops have been arriving in increasing numbers."

"PINCHED" BY NAZIS
These concentrations of enemy troops in a nominally neutral country have obliged the British Government to regard the Rumanian Government as being no longer in full control of their own country, or its foreign policy.

Asked whether it were true that the Germans had "pinched" (stolen) all the material which the British had supplied to Rumania, Mr. Butler replied, amidst laughter: "I think they have pinched as much as they can."

WON'T ACCEPT NAZI PLAN

The Foreign Undersecretary also mentioned that the British mister to Rumania remained there in order to protect certain British interests.

Asked what suggestions had been received from Germany for an agreement at the expense of France, Mr. Butler said that, non-committal of France by Britain, had been implicit in any German public pronouncement on Germany's conception of a settlement with Great Britain. The ruling idea in the German mind, he added, was that Germany should dominate the continent. This is a conception with which we have never been in agreement, and which we are not now willing to accept.

The "considerable progress" that had been made in the negotiations with the United States for the leasing to that country of bases in the West Indies was emphasized by the Colonial Undersecretary, Mr. George Hall.

AGREE ON SITES

An agreement had been reached on certain sites for bases in Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Antigua, St. Lucia and British Guiana, he said. The preliminary work on the agreed plans would be started in the near future and would be proceeded with at full speed. He went on:

"This important strategic and political development is a valuable contribution to the defence of the two great de-mocracies and the future of Anglo-American relations."

The conference of British and American experts to give practical
effect to the bases agreed to America is to be held shortly in London. Topics of discussion,
Reuter learns, are to be the judicial and administrative of the regions concerned. The governments of Newfoundland and Bermuda have already been invited.

"It is not necessary to convince the colonial people," Hall stated. "Hitler's own reference to them, which do little credit to his sense of humanity or his imagination, make our most effective propaganda."

Britain's Need Of Butter

The financing of Britain appeared to be the dominant subject at first, but in a hurry. We did it before and might as well do it again."

Another source of concern has been the future of American export trade if British resources are allowed to become exhausted. The British Empire now takes 60 per cent. of United States exports, and the sudden and complete collapse of the Empire would be a heavy blow to American national economy.

manufacturers, for instance, to know whether it is financially safe to accept further orders from the millions they have to handle British orders repaid.

FORD INTERVIEW
DETROIT, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Mr. Henry Ford, in an interview yesterday, said that if Britain needed money he was in favour of "giving them all they want."

He added: "It will end the war in a hurry. We did it before and might as well do it again."

WHY SIR GEORGE PAISH WAS ADVISED TO LEAVE AMERICA

In a U.S. Senate committee room one day recently Montana's Senator Burt Wheeler said to a man with a spare, tall, white-mustachioed Scotsman: "Who had asked to see him, writes a columnist in 'Time'." The Senator's misty eyes looked grimmer and grimmer as he heard what his visitor had to say. But he listened on. His visitor was an eminent British economist, pink-cheeked, 72-year-old Sir George Paish. Three hours later, as the Scotsman took his leave, Senator Wheeler turned an amazed stare on two stenographers in the reception room outside, exclaimed: "What do you think that old gentleman just told me?" Burt Wheeler later told the Senate: "He (Sir George Paish) said to me 'Senator, the American people have never denied a request that I made of them...' He said to me 'I am responsible for getting the United States into the last war... and I am going to get this country into this war.' 'He is urging that 50 destroyers be given to Great Britain. He is urging that the Johnson Act (forbidding loans to nations which have defaulted on their debt to the U.S.) be repealed. He was very, very frank about it.' Interrupting, Minnesota's Senator Ernest Lundeen declared: 'I think the gentleman referred to should be deported from the United States.' Said peppery old Senator Carter Glass of Virginia: "... If there is not a law to deport him, he should be deported anyway."

Intense Fighting Around Pogradetz: Heights Taken

LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—The advance of the Greeks to within one and a half miles of the Albanian supply port of Santi Quaranta is one of their most notable achievements for it was from here that the Italians first drove them back till the fighting raged 15 miles inside Greece.

The Greeks then rallied and in the last three weeks have steadily driven the Fascists back to where they started and Greek guns now command the port and Greek infantry units are on its flanks.

Further inland, but still near the coast, the Italian gipsy on in relentlessly on Santi Quaranta. Argyrocastron is being steadily North of Argyrocastron Italian troops have taken today fell back from two more heights dominating the town towards Kilaia, and two city and the Italian position is still being harried by aircraft while Greek land forces already very near Premet yesterday to have cut the transport route between Argyrocastron and the coast. Heavy snow is falling in the north but even here the Greeks are still advancing.

The direct High Command announced that new heights have been taken around Pogradetz following intense fighting some of the Italians are withdrawing westwards to St. Basil which is only some 30 miles from the coast.

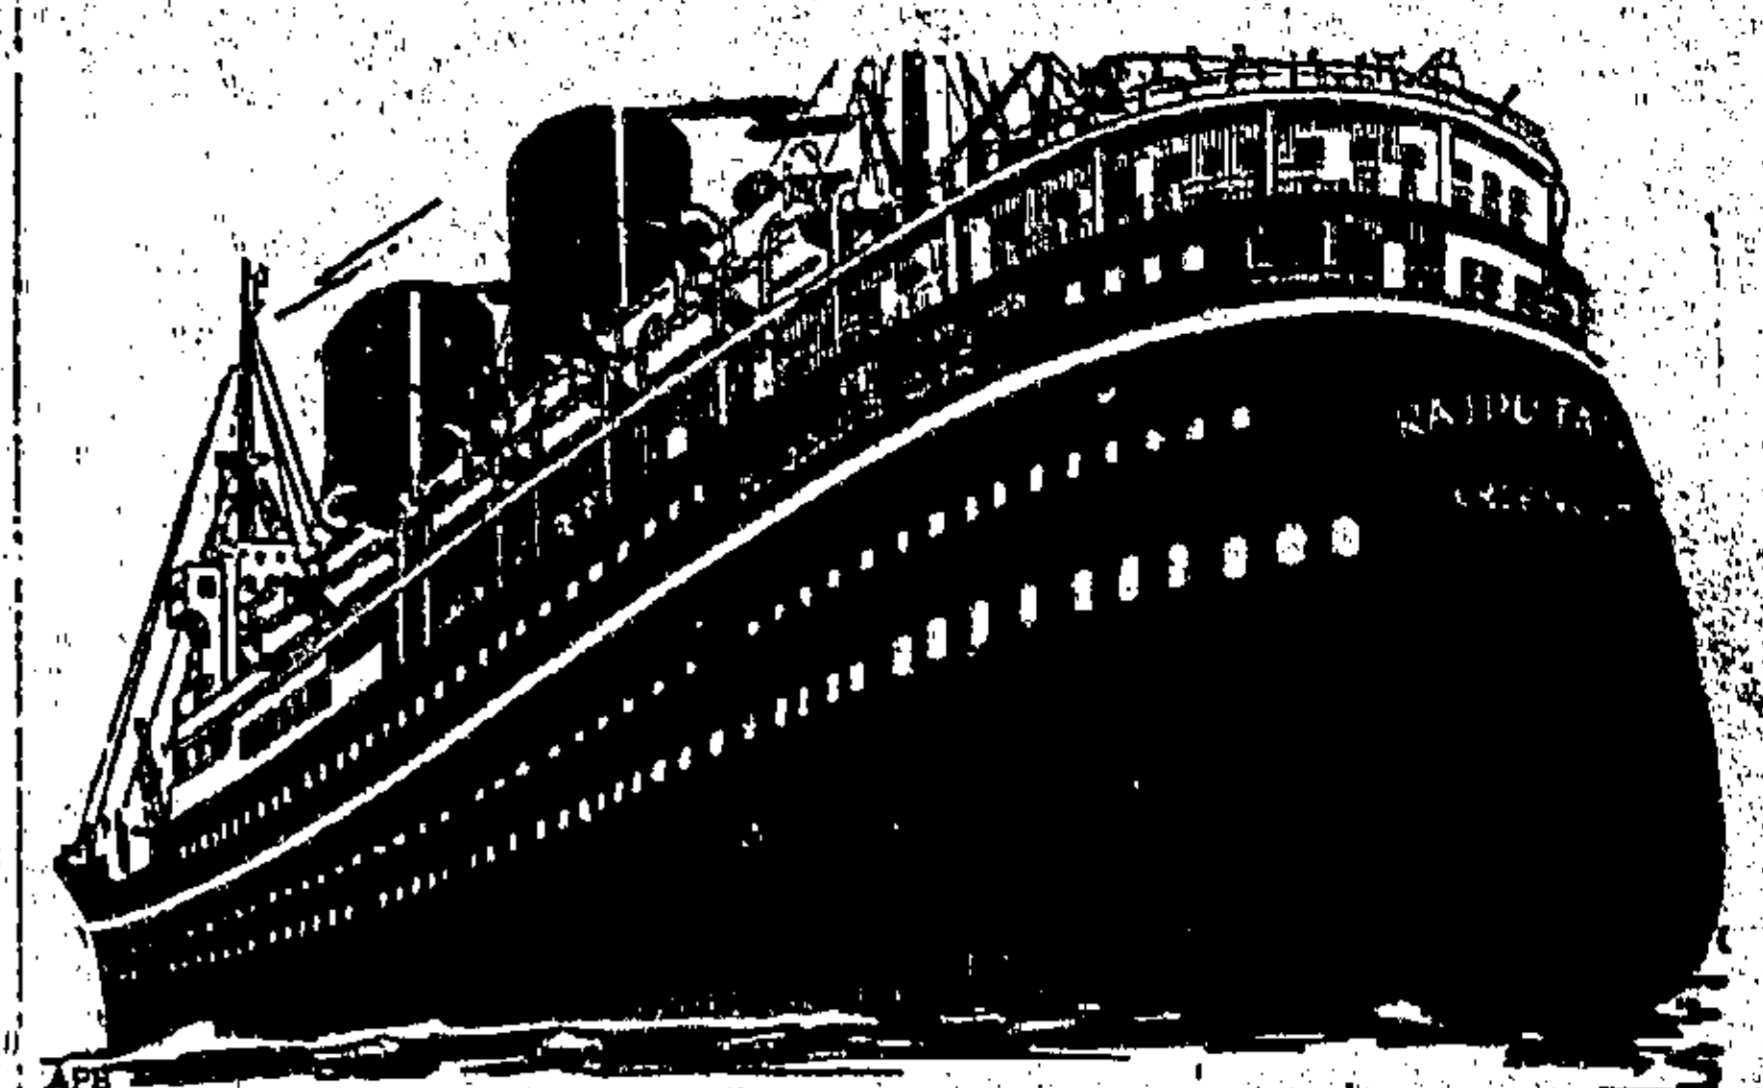

An Athens message says that an Italian counter-attack near Lake Ochrida has been repulsed, the Greeks taking a large number of prisoners.

ITALIANS HARRIED
ATHENS, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—The not result of Greek operations of the last 24 hours has been to iron out the number of "pockets" and bring the Greek line into a broad egg-shaped curve across southern Albania.

YOUTHFUL CALLED UP
LONDON, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—It was learned yesterday that Italy has started to call up to the colours her youths of 19 and only priests and men already in the Fascist Militia and police will be exempted.

R.A.F. SUCCESSES
CAIRO, Dec. 5 (Reuter).—Further R.A.F. successes over Albania were announced here yesterday. Reports received confirm that in addition to the two aircraft destroyed by R.A.F. fighters and bomber formations in Albania on Monday, two other enemy aircraft were also destroyed.

The British Embassy in Washington quickly "advised" Sir George to go back to Britain as fast as he could get there. Isolationist Senators took advantage of Sir George's remarks to demand an investigation of all British propaganda in the U.S. The State Department and the F.B.I. promised to look into Sir George's activities. A member of the Embassy staff told the Washington Post: "We wish someone would drop Sir George Paish over Germany as a pamphlet."

GERMANS, PAST AND PRESENT

HITLER COMPARED WITH KAISER

"The Germans of the nineties and the Germans of this century have many elements of similarity," said the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Vansittart, G.C.B., G.C.M.G., Diplomatic Adviser to His Majesty's Government, in a further talk in London yesterday in the series "Black Record—Germans Past and Present."

Liberalism, he said, had no chance in pre-war Germany. The Germans showed no desire for political independence or maturity. Sir Robert referred to the degradation of the German language to the level of the public square and Billingsgate.

"So we do not pay much attention to their abuse of us," he added.

ESSENTIALLY SAME

"It would be an interesting study to compare the 'Kaiser's' Germany with Herr Hitler's Germany," went on Sir Robert. "The similarities are enormous. The Kaiser's speeches were essentially the same as Herr Hitler's."

"Then, as now, the Germans were dissatisfied with the world that did not give them everything they thought they deserved and the Germans, of course, think that they deserve everything."

Sir Robert declared that the Kaiser's regime had its scandals, but added that these were nothing when compared with the Orgies of the Nazi organisation.

"The other similarities between the Kaiser and the Fuehrer are their conceit and megalomania. Otherwise, Hitler would not have given us his 'Mein Kampf'."

PETAIN PLAN TO IMPROVE FRENCH STATE SYSTEM

VICHY, NOV. 19.—MARSHAL HENRI PHILIPPE PETAIN, HEAD OF THE FRENCH STATE, TODAY ANNOUNCED THAT HE HAS COMPLETED THE OUTLINE OF HIS POLITICAL REFORMS DESIGNED TO IMPROVE THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE NEW STATE.

Petaín said he will shortly designate a drafting commission consisting of legal specialists to carry out his plans. He told listeners "we hope it will be ready before we are obliged to discuss peace conditions with Germany."

THE MAIN POINTS OF PETAIN'S POLITICAL REFORMS ARE:

1. France will be divided into 20 provinces or economic regions each of which will comprise six or seven administrative departments. Each province will be governed by a governor who will be directly responsible to Petaín. Under the governors, each department within the province will continue to be governed by a prefect, but by elimination of political parties and elected municipal or departmental councils, these prefects will be relieved of all local political pressure and be responsible only to the governors.

COUNCIL OF NOBLES

2. The government will appoint a municipal council of nobles, thus eliminating completely all municipal suffrage.

3. The nationally elected senate and chamber of deputies will be suppressed and in place of that parliament will be substituted another parliament to be composed partly of hand-picked, government-appointed notables to be chosen for service rendered to the nation, and partly of representatives of professional organizations chosen by corporate suffrage. Both national and workers' corporations will be represented, thus insuring both capital and labor a fair proportion along with most representative classes of the nation.

4. Creation of supreme court modelled after that of the United States which Petaín said he admired during his visits to America. This court will be charged with arbitrating all differences arising between various echelons of the national hierarchy.

There would be other advisory councils such as Petaín intends to create in each of 20 provinces to serve as provincial council to serve under the governor and consisting of delegates from the 20 major provisional organizations, including farmers, employers, labor and representatives of all professions, such as doctors, lawyers and teachers.

ENDS VISIT IN LYONS

Petaín today concluded his two-

"CHINA IS THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENCE OF THE SOUTH SEAS"

"China is really the first line of defence of the South Seas," declared General Wu Te-chen, China's goodwill envoy and Minister of Overseas Affairs, speaking before a gathering of Straits-born Chinese in Singapore on Nov. 24, according to a report from Singapore.

General Wu recalled Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's statement that world peace is indivisible and there can be no separate peace in Asia.

"For forty months the people of China," General Wu said, "have faced many difficulties and made great sacrifices, but this has made them more determined to carry on the struggle to a victorious finish. Through these sacrifices the foundation for final victory has been firmly laid."

"Our country at home know what the present life and death struggle means. At the front our soldiers are giving their blood for a good cause, and in the rear every man, woman and child has a duty to perform."

FINAL VICTORY

General Wu added: "We are confident of victory because China has never been so united on account of faulty communications and other factors."

"Today, we have one government, one leader and one principle. We are sure of the final outcome because we all know that united we stand, and divided we fall.

"We are fortunate in having such a good pilot as the Generalissimo and we feel sure he will steer the Chinese ship of state safely through the stormy seas."

WORLD SYMPATHY

"The sympathy of the world is on our side because we are fighting to uphold the principles of international justice and respect for the rights of others."

"We Chinese are grateful for the help given by peace-loving nations. We consider the reopening of the Burma Road as another gesture of Sino-British friendship.

"We are fighting to make China safe for democracy. A strong and healthy China is beneficial to the world. In the reconstruction of the world after the end of the war, China will surely be an important factor because we have natural resources and manpower," General Wu concluded.

Rockbottom Character Of British Soldier

"Every evening, after darkness from the Nazis. How well the German airmen carry out the orders of Herr Hitler."

BOMBING IN POLAND

Major Hastings quoted a description of the German bombing and machine-gunning of civilians in Poland as they ran out of their homes, "with the precision of a sportsman shooting down clay pigeons."

"That is what will happen to us if we would allow them," said the speaker.

Major Hastings then quoted the following statement: "If the pilot can only see in the grey lights of dawn what their indiscriminate bombing has done, it may be possible that if they have human hearts left, they will feel some sorrow."

"And who do you think wrote that?" asked Major Hastings. "It was the Hun, the Nazi—and it was written about Berlin! With the full knowledge of what they have done not only in London, but in Warsaw, Rotterdam and other towns—how they squeal and moan and bellow when they get a taste of their own medicine."

"Listen to what a German airman has had to say: 'All of us felt a moment of happiness and joy when we thought of the havoc our bombing would do, especially to a block of flats which could be clearly seen in the moonlight! It's this Hitler that is proclaiming his new order and taking on the role of an evangelist!'

Major Hastings referred to a book which he had read on National Socialism. "There is one consistent thing in this mumble-jumble," he said, "and that is the doctrine of the German mind to dominate all others—that is the endless refrain. Right is what benefits the German people—wrong is what hurts them—that is their new order."

MORAL REASONS

"Someone said recently that nations go to war today for moral reasons. That is one of those wretched half-truths. The fact is that democracies like Britain and her dominions and the United States do not go to war for purely material reasons, except, of course, in self-defence. I stress this because I believe that the moral side of this business matter enormously."

"The thing we are fighting is intolerably foul in its methods and that is why the German terror campaign and cajoleries have proved such failures."

"Nothing will stop our people now that they have seen the evil with their eyes open and nothing will deter them from their determination that this foul thing must be destroyed."

"Behind Herr Hitler stands, we know, millions of conquered people, but they have hate and terror in their eyes. Behind us is the strength of the Dominions and the heart of America and from across the Atlantic comes the sound of the clank of factories, which must sound in the ears of Herr Hitler and his gangsters like the mills of God."
